Democrats Disgusted with Beecher's Appointment.

AN ORDER RELATIVE TO BANDS.

The Silver Question Attracting a Great Deal of Attention—Warner Says a Compromise has to be Arranged by the Leaders.

CONCERNING ARMY AND NAVY BANDS.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible] Secretary Whitney [illegible] relative to the employment of the [illegible] band of the United States steamship New Hampshire at Newport [illegible] and practically [illegible] their engagements finds no special law on the subject of musicians taking employment [illegible] by their enlistment. The [illegible] finds universal and the [illegible] provided by the government [illegible] supposition that enlisted musicians will supplement their government pay [illegible] but in these cases there is a universal rule that the government shall not [illegible] competition with private individuals [illegible] This has become the subject of a general army order to the effect that the Secretary of War has discouraged the employment of regimental bands for purposes not connected with their duties in the military service and holds that they should not be brought into competition with [illegible] bands. In the navy [illegible] the same rule should apply at least to the extent of [illegible] unfair competition between the bands supported by the government and private individuals engaged in the same business.

THE PRESIDENT.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Warner of Ohio Says a Compromise has been Arranged—He Outlines the Plan.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible]—[Special.]—Representative Warner [illegible] returned from New York, where he went [illegible] the silver question with such parties [illegible] an hearing. He did not [illegible] with whom he discussed the [illegible] nor [illegible] prepared to go into details as to what [illegible] proposed [illegible] dis[illegible] Mr Warner [illegible] give the points discussed which he says was held in New York and intimates that Mr Tilden and other men known [illegible] the further coinage of silver have been consulted.

The methods of dealing with the silver question, said Mr Warner, have been under discussion by gentlemen interested in this question, and so far as the views of the gentlemen who have heretofore taken an active part in this subject have been expressed [illegible] as there has been an opportunity [illegible] to consult them I think I can say that there is a substantial agreement on certain important points at issue.

THE PROPOSITION DISCUSSED.

When asked to state the points discussed, Mr Warner said:

The proposition so far discussed is to suspend the coinage of silver dollars and instead of further coinage at the present ratio to issue certificates on silver bullion brought to standard fineness as now required for coinage, at the market value at the time of deposit. Such certificates to be made receivable for all dues to and from the government and between banks, but not legal tender between individuals, the certificates to be expressed in dollars and to show on their face that they are secured by a deposit of silver bullion, certificates to be exchangeable at the pleasure of holders for lawful money, and redeemable at the option of the government in silver bullion at its market value at the time of redemption. These certificates would therefore not only be issued at the market value of silver bullion at the time of issue, but would be maintained by the government at that level. When received into the treasury for dues to the government or in exchange for lawful money they are to be held and paid out as part of the volume of currency. When redeemed in silver bullion they are to be canceled and destroyed. Coinage of silver is not to be resumed until such time as there may be an actual demand from the public for more silver dollars. When such demand shall arise [illegible] bullion owned by the government at the discretion of the secretary of the treasury is to be coined and the certificates representing the bullion would be canceled and destroyed.

OTHER PROVISIONS.

"Second. Withdrawal of one and two dollar legal tender notes, without, however, reducing the total volume [illegible] greenbacks, and five dollar bank notes, without thereby reducing the total of bank notes, and the substitution of small notes based on silver dollars [illegible] These silver notes would be [illegible] the present silver certificates [illegible] upon silver coin dollar for dollar [illegible] legal tender.

Third. Recoinage of at least the half dollar [illegible] the twenty five [illegible] and [illegible] legal tender, and stopping [illegible] the redemption of all subsidiary coins. The amount to be coined [illegible] governed by the demands of the public for this class of currency.

The effect of such a law as is outlined by Mr Warner would be to monetize silver at its market value, based on current prices, upon the issuance of treasury certificates against it.

The subject of silver coinage is a very serious and important one. The president has not changed his views on the subject, and they remain now as set forth in his silver letter [illegible] The president will [illegible] message to congress just what he has to say on the subject [illegible]

A BLOW AT THE BULLDOZERS

Directed before the Nation by the President they aided in Electing

Boston Advertiser (Mugwump)

It is doubtful whether all that the republican party has done to make the criminal outrages of the Ku Klux democrats of the south odious in the eyes of the perpetrators has equaled in effect this one act of President Cleveland in discrediting the leaders of the Copiah county assassins. Whatever republicans have said has been received and treated as if it were the prompting of party hostility rather than of a higher motive. But when a democratic president declares that democrats guilty of such crimes are unfit to hold office and public [illegible] participation in political assassination as the [illegible] the appointment of a leading Mississippi democrat [illegible] such a repudiation as may be expected to strike with dismay the [illegible] league of political murderers from Virginia to [illegible] and astonish them [illegible] the [illegible] of their offenses against the common [illegible]

The President's refusal to give a postmastership to [illegible] Hazlehurst, Miss [illegible] participation in the assassination of a citizen of that place for political reasons may not appear to northern minds an act of conspicuous virtue, but it will be like the explosion of a bombshell in some southern democratic camps. Those southern democrats who have resorted to murder as a legitimate political weapon who have [illegible] in this account suffered no loss of standing at home but seem rather to have been thereby especially commended to favor, probably have not dreamed that any democrat anywhere would regard the assassinations of republicans as a serious disqualification for preferment under a democratic administration. The northern democratic press by its too ready condonement of ku klux crimes has encouraged this opinion just as its submission to the demands of the slave power, and its craven censuring of southern threats of disunion encouraged the secessionists to believe that the northern democratic party would sympathize with and aid their treason as thousands did.

Therefore such acts as the revocation by a democratic president of the appointments of the [illegible] Blackburn and the blood stained Meade, will have a startling significance for such democrats in the south as have expected that the more numerous their crimes for the sake of party success the more certain would be their reward when democratic administration was established.

ITEMS FROM THE DALLES.

THE DALLES, June [illegible]

Mr C E Dunham returned from the east Friday.

Miss Lucy Wilson, registry clerk at the postoffice, is visiting friends in Walla Walla.

R Fenton of Fox creek has sold out his entire band of cattle and a few days since deeded his ranch to J H Shaw.

No interest seems to be taken in the city election which occurs a week from Monday. All the candidates must be dark horses.

Several bands of horses were sold during the past week to be driven into Wyoming. Prices were very low, ranging from $ to $30 per head.

For the past four or five days the weather has been uncomfortably cool but no rain has fallen. Heavy west winds have prevailed keeping the air filled with dust and sand.

The graduating exercises of the Wasco Independent academy will be held at the Methodist church Friday afternoon June 12. There will be four graduates this year, all ladies. Wednesday evening Miss Dilley assisted by her music school will give a recital at the Methodist church.

[illegible] Esmeralda given by the ladies of the W C T U at the opera house last Wednesday evening was in every way a success. The cast of characters was made up with one exception by ladies and gentlemen of this city, all of whom merited the warm reception with which they were greeted. Judge Walton of Salem who came up to take the part of old man Rogers for an amateur is an excellent actor and he contributed much to the success of the play. The net proceeds were about $75.

A large audience assembled at the Methodist church Friday evening to listen to the closing exercises of the public schools. The exercises consisted of choruses by the Mozart club and the primary classes, essays and orations of the graduating class, the farewell address to the class by Miss Melissa Hill of the next year's class, addresses by the principal and Hon F P Smith of the school board, and presentation of diplomas. The following is a list of the graduates with the subjects of their orations and essays: Florence Cram "Is It Wise for Girls to be Educated?" Herman Heppner, "Is our Jury System a Failure?" Bertha Dow "Our Future Schoolmate—John Chinaman." Norman Wilson "Our County Jail." Nellie Losher "The Cash Value of the School-girl." Gertrude Myers "The Almighty Dollar," with valedictory addresses. The character of the exercises and the manner in which all the class acquitted themselves reflects great credit upon the principal, Professor Chas Davidson and his assistants. The people of The Dalles take a just pride in their public schools, as was shown by the large audience which would have been much larger had the church been able to have accommodated all who went and were turned away.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY MASONS

The grand lodge of Masons of Washington territory adjourned Friday in Tacoma after a session of two days. There were about 150 representatives including the grand officers present.

The financial report showed the lodge to be out of debt with enough money in the treasury to pay the current expenses of the ensuing year. It cost the lodge $1000 less to meet in western Washington this year than it did to hold the convention in eastern Washington last year. This is owing to the fact that the majority of lodges are on this side of the Cascades and also that the cities and towns on this side are closer together, considerable being saved in consequence in mileage.

It was decided to hold the next session in Olympia.

A dispensation was granted for the institution of a new lodge, making the forty fifth in the territory. The total membership of the lodges as reported, exceeds 1800.

The following officers were elected: [illegible] Zeigler of Spokane Falls grand master; [illegible] Smith of Kalama, deputy grand master; W [illegible] R Andrews of Cheney senior grand warden; Nathan S Porter of Olympia junior grand warden; W H [illegible] of Olympia grand treasurer; T M Reed of Olympia grand secretary; W H [illegible] of Walla Walla grand chaplain; W J Thompson of Tacoma grand marshal; Andrew McCully of Walla Walla grand standard bearer; W W Poole of Seattle, grand bible bearer; Smith Weed of Walla Walla grand orator; W H. Fairweather of Cheney grand lecturer; James Campbell of Puyallup senior grand deacon; George W Morse of Whidby Island junior grand deacon; T C Nicklin of Whatcom junior grand steward, and — Rankin of Colfax senior grand steward.

The grand lodge also enacted a regulation that hereafter in this jurisdiction a person engaged in the sale of intoxicating liquors other than for medicinal purposes should not be eligible to the degrees in Masonry, and also passed by a large majority vote an amendment to the constitution which lies over for final action at the next communication, providing that no member of the fraternity shall hereafter be eligible to office in a lodge of Masons who is at the time engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors other than for medicinal purposes.

Pertinent but Very Rude.

New York Tribune.

While the monthly magazines are devoting their pages to historical discussions by actual performers in various interesting real life dramas, one of them should cap the climax of enterprise by securing a series of articles from each member of the cabinet on the question "Which of Us is the Worst Bungler?" Few contemporaneous problems offer such wide room for research and speculation.

The Road to Some Other Place

New York Tribune. The Boston Herald is satisfied that no fair minded person can fail to see that the president's intentions are good. Now that it has been eliminated from the Bible we suppose the road to some other place will have to be substituted for the one hitherto paved with good intentions. That to oblivion will do just as well.

Boston Herald. As Mr Hendricks has been many times reminded, if the democratic party had dared to ask the country to give it a commission to loot the public service in this radical fashion it would have nominated himself or some politician of his stripe for president. And then it would have been whipped again.

Great Mass Meeting Held in London—Big Bear Attacked and Driven Back—Reception Arranged for Minister Jackson

LONDON, June 7—Mr White, the English ad interim minister at Constantinople, is negotiating for the consent of the sultan for the establishment of a permanent British garrison at Alexandria. If the porte assents, the evacuation of Egypt will be quickened. The aim of the English policy is to obtain security against the possibility of occupation by any other power after the English leave and to maintain English dominance of Egypt and the Soudan.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND SHORE DISPUTE.

LONDON, June 7—Mr Ford, late British minister at Athens has been sent on a mission to Paris, in connection with the Newfoundland shore dispute. Prior to the fall of the Ferry ministry an agreement was really concluded with M. Ferry in accordance with which one of the Leeward Islands was to be ceded to France, in exchange for complete surrender by France of her claims in Newfoundland. Negotiations were suspended on M Ferry's insisting on retaining St. Pierre of the Miquelon group. Ford will renew the offer of an agreement.

THE AMEER NOT ASSASSINATED.

BIG BEAR ATTACKED AND DRIVEN BACK

WINNIPEG, June 7—The following dispatch has been received:

FORT PITT, N W T, June 3
(Via BATTLEFORD, June 6)

General Middleton, with fifty men each of the Ninetieth Midland and Grenadiers, and a Gatling with eight men, left to join General Strange this evening. All the mounted men left early this morning. Captain Steele, who is pursuing Big Bear, has not yet been heard from. Consequently it is not known when the men belonging to his column will return. General Middleton, before leaving, said they would not return until all of Big Bear's prisoners were rescued.

FORT PITT, June 4—Captain Steele with seventy mounted scouts and police, had an engagement with Big Bear at Two Lakes, fifty miles southeast of here yesterday. We came upon the Indians at 6 o'clock in the morning, as they were striking camp, and immediately attacked them. Finding their front too strong he executed a clever flanking movement, taking the Indians in the rear and driving them in disorder across a small creek, where he was unable to follow on account of his small force. The Indians numbered fully 250. He saw no signs of prisoners during the fight. Steele sent interpreter McKee with a flag of truce. He advanced but was fired on. He got near enough to be heard, and called out to Big Bear in Indian, who replied indistinctly. McKee said "If you will deliver our people we will cease firing." The Indian replied "We intend to clean you out." Steele's loss was three wounded.

FORT PITT, VIA BATTLEFORD, June 6—Strange's column arrived at Little Red Deer river Wednesday.

A BIG 'FIND' IN EASTERN OREGON.

HUNTINGTON, Or , June 5, 1885.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Parties just in from Pine Valley, Union County, report the discovery of a new quartz mining camp in that valley. Samples of quartz brought in have caused much excitement here and several parties are preparing to go to the new field. Letters from persons already in the camp to parties here who are interested in the new "find" give glowing accounts of the prospects. One man says it is the richest camp he was ever in and that he has prospected in nearly every camp of note on the coast.

The specimens shown certainly warrant the risk being taken by the parties who are outfitting. I send you some small samples of the quartz and I am told by persons who have seen the ledges that there is much of such rock there.

Snow is now twenty feet deep in many places in the camp and but little prospecting has been done or can be until the snow goes off.

These mines are on a tributary to Pine creek called Elk creek and seventeen locations have been made, three of the gold and fourteen of the galena. The country is heavily timbered. The formation is granite with foot wall of slate to gold and porphyry to galena, and there is some lime rock. This camp is seventy five miles from Union, eighty miles from Baker City and sixty five miles from Huntington.

Parties leave to-morrow for the camp via Connor Creek. The writer will go down next week and on return will write a thorough description of the camp and country.

PORTLAND, MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1885.

THE CITY ELECTION

By the turn of politics in the last presidential election the spirit of party has been so developed as to render independent action in local and municipal matters for the present difficult, and its results doubtful. The democrats, having gained the national government, are more inclined than heretofore to insist on straight party rule in all directions, and consequently to take straight party action; the republicans, finding themselves defeated in a national contest, are drawn more closely together and are less disposed to give countenance to independent or irregular political effort, and consequently entertain and manifest a desire much more apparent than formerly of cultivating harmony and securing unity of action in the name of their own party.

This active party spirit is manifest to an unusual degree on both sides in our own city as preparation is made for the coming municipal election. This election is to be contested on party lines. It will be so in name, undoubtedly, and it will be largely so in fact. Members of each party would plainly prefer to vote tickets bearing their own party's name. There will be two tickets, one of them called republican, the other democratic. They who are elected will be elected as republicans or as democrats. Little or no disposition is evinced to discard party names and bring out candidates without reference to party affiliation. In this respect the present occasion furnishes a sharp contrast with former ones during many years past.

And yet there are many voters who are not going to be led by devotion to party names to support men whom they regard as unworthy either in point of honesty or capacity. In other words, the local managers must not make the mistake of supposing that a party name is sure to carry or command a whole party's vote. Judgment, therefore, in making nominations is still an essential thing. Men placed in nomination must be reputable and fit. This is a point on which no citizen can afford to surrender his right of private judgment. And however high party spirit may be, there will always be enough who refuse to surrender it, to disturb or defeat the calculations of local schemers who bank on popular devotion to party as their chief capital or stock in trade.

Republican sentiment in Portland has always been preponderant. It was never more so than it is now. Out of this preponderance grows a responsibility both to the party itself and to the whole public. To maintain a party in highest efficiency, so that it may be a fit instrument of the public welfare, the action taken in its name in these local elections must be fair, highminded and honorable. No suspicion of jobbing must attach to its nominees. Good business capacity is a necessary part of the personal integrity required in those named for these stations. After long waiting, the time has now come to expel from our municipal government the inefficiency, imbecility and dishonesty that have scandalized and disgraced it. The city needs in its mayor a man of proven capacity and character. It should elect to the common council men who are clear of all combinations or connections with the administration of the past three years. The republicans ought to carry the city, but they should not expect to do so unless the candidates presented in the name of the party are worthy men. The city wants a sound business administration. The truth is, such administration has very little relation to the political questions on which parties divide, and therefore although most men would prefer to vote even in these local elections for candidates named by the party with which they associate in general politics, yet when notoriously unfit nominations are made they will refuse to be coerced into their support, claiming rightly that municipal administration is purely a business matter, and not in any proper sense a political or party matter at all. Local bosses would do well to bear in mind that even in times when party lines are closely drawn there are large numbers of citizens who have independence enough to put up this plea against unfit nominations. Let us admonish those who are managing the conventions that the only way to get a full party vote for their candidates is to offer candidates who are regarded as worthy of it. And since the republican party is largely in the majority in Portland, its responsibility is therefore the greater, and it is under heavier bonds than the other party to present candidates who are worthy of public confidence and support.

The people of Portland do not want a loose, profligate and irresponsible government of their city, though their votes the last time a mayor was chosen seemed to indicate that they wanted just that thing. That blunder, however, is the very thing that will make them more exacting this time. Right now, therefore, is a proper occasion to look out for one of those spasmodic efforts of the spirit of reform, when those who put themselves in the way always get hurt. Reform has a way of waking up suddenly, swinging its club, and then going off into a long sleep again. Here in Portland it has been sleeping a long time, and this very likely will be its year to wake up again.

THE [illegible] RESIGNATION

The request of the postmaster general to Mr Meade, the newly appointed postmaster at Hazlehurst, Copiah county, Miss., to resign, has caused great indignation among the murderers of Prentice Matthews. Representative Barksdale, in whose district Copiah is located and who urged Meade's appointment, has not only notified him not to resign but has called upon the president to suspend action till Meade is served with the specifications of the charge against him. The Copiah murderers now plainly say that the killing of Matthews was a political necessity. It is predicted that Meade will not resign.

A New Orleans special to the Chicago Tribune says: "A prominent Mississippian, speaking today of the call for Meade's resignation, remarked: 'It has got beyond necessity of concealment that the killing of Prent Matthews was a political necessity. He was educated, well off, and hard-headed. He held the negroes up to the republican rack, and persuasion to desist had no effect upon him. So long as he wouldn't quit he had to be killed in order that Mississippi should be and remain a democratic state and that a democratic president might be elected. Why make so much fuss about Matthews, when scores of men had to be killed before Lamar could go to the senate, and thence into Mr Cleveland's cabinet?' If Meade resigns on the demand of the president he is a fool, and if the president insists upon it he is a hypocrite, and only worthy of the contempt of faithful democrats."

The murder of Matthews was but one incident in more than ten thousand of the same kind. It obtained special notoriety only through the prominence of the victim. It has been shown that to make the south a solid political body more men have been murdered than fell on both sides in any two of the bloodiest battles of the war. General Sheridan, who is not a partisan, in an official report computed these murders at more than three thousand in Louisiana alone. But for this reign of bloody violence, seconded by less horrible but even more effective methods of fraud, there would be no solid south and no democratic president. "The south" has a right to be indignant at a rebuff by a president who holds office solely through the work of such men as Meade.

In a speech in Missouri the other day Secretary Bayard repeated the old story that his party was "cheated" out of the election in 1876. The fact simply is that there were and are seven or eight southern states which the democratic party has not carried fairly since the war, and never could carry but by violence and fraud. In 1876, the republicans, finding the thieves getting away with these states, roused themselves to vigorous action, and having in their hands some of the weapons of resistance and defense, recovered part of the property—enough to destroy the usufruct of the fraud. Since that time the outrage then attempted has been successfully carried through in every election. And since its object is at last accomplished, men like the murderers of Matthews and Chisholm, together with those who abetted and excused them, are the very ones who ought to be appointed to office under an administration which they have created. Meade is right in treating the demand of the postmaster general for his resignation as an impertinence and absurdity.

PUGET SOUND DEFENSE

The defense of Puget sound of late somewhat discussed in this journal, is a matter of special interest to General Miles who has recently caused the approaches from the ocean to be examined in detail by military men and is himself looking the situation over at the present time. The criticisms of THE OREGONIAN upon the location of Fort Townsend, now the only military station in those waters, are fully sustained by the officers who have been looking into the matter. The fort sits in the shelter of a deep inside curve at a point highly favorable for safety, but out of range of the ship channel. It is useless as a defensive station and so far as protection of the Sound is concerned, there might as well be no fort.

It has been supposed generally that protection of Puget sound by shore works would be impossible, but we are told by military engineers that it can be done effectively by the establishment of four batteries, one on the height commanding Deception Pass, two at Points Wilson and Marrowstone or the mainland, and another at Admiralty Head or Whidby Island. Lines drawn between the three last named points form an almost exact equilateral triangle, the distances from head to head being a trifle less than four miles. A vessel entering from the straits of Fuca has no choice but to pass through the narrow Deception Pass, which can be easily defended, or through the main channel, and so past and within short range of Points Wilson and Marrowstone and Admiralty Head. Batteries on these three headlands could operate simultaneously, and it would simply be impossible to pass if they were properly fortified and manned.

From its situation, Puget sound is particularly exposed to visitation by hostile ships. The channels are so deep and wide that entrance from the ocean is easy at all times. And furthermore, it is but two hours' sail from a strong foreign naval station. It is the duty of the government to do what may be done for its defense. And we are glad to see that the department commander recognizes this.

THE MINING OUTLOOK

Many circumstances point to an important extension of mining enterprise in Oregon and Washington in the near future. All the old and paying mines are being worked diligently, and hardly a week passes without a mineral discovery in some part of the country. From western, southern and eastern Oregon, and from several points in eastern Washington, reports of rich discoveries have come within the past month. The country, it seems, is being more thoroughly prospected than ever before. The dullness in general business has turned the attention of many men to mining, and in all directions the mountains are being searched for the precious deposits which it is certain lie hidden in their depths.

In the hopeful estimate of the business prospect recently put forth by THE OREGONIAN, no account was made of the benefits likely to come to the country from this branch of industry (for simply as an industry mining must hereafter be followed), but it, too, might have been added as an important item. The output of our mines now operated will largely exceed that of any recent year, and there is reason to hope for a further large increase through the opening of entirely new fields.

It is by no means certain that the reduction works, so much talked about, will be established. Enough money to build and fully equip such works has been pledged, but the railroad companies have withdrawn the rates for bullion which they offered when the scheme was proposed, and under the rates now given there is no assurance of profit. The whole matter rests with the railroad companies, and it is certainly to be hoped that they will find a way to make sufficiently low rates. The existence of works here would make Portland a mining center and stimulate the increase of mining enterprise throughout the country.

An eight hour bill has passed the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature. It provides a punishment for any employer who compels his employes to labor more than eight hours a day. We fail to see any advantage to be derived from such legislation, for it stands to reason that eight hours labor will be paid for at a less rate than ten or twelve hours. Whether the bill becomes a law or not, laboring men will continue to work just as many hours a day as they may agree upon with their employers. If a laboring man can earn more money by working ten hours than he can in eight, which is an undisputable fact, he is going to do it, and that is all there is to it. The effect of the Pennsylvania law will simply be to abolish the standard of ten hours as a day's work, and compel the payment for labor to be made at a proportionate price per hour.

The Charleston, S. C., News and Courier makes Memorial day a text for admonishing the south again that the north remembers her dead as the south does not. The News says:

> Those who fell on the federal side have been carefully gathered together from every wood and field and buried in cemeteries that are well tended and kept. The bones of thousands of confederates, the men who died in the assertion of the right of self government which was asserted in the war by the colonies in the rebellion of 1776, are scattered or lie bleaching in the sun and rain.

The south may remember its dead with affection, but it ought to do it without being so absurd as to say that the rebellion of 1861, to perpetuate slavery, was the same in principle with the rebellion of 1776 to establish freedom.

The revision of the Old Testament will, from present appearances, prove a failure in a pecuniary sense, and the learned gentlemen who performed the work of revision will get no reward other than a satisfied conscience because of duty done, or supposed to be done. The people prefer the old version, and decline to squander their money in the purchase of books which they do not propose to read. The Jewish Messenger says that the revisors "have corrected many obsolete English phrases," but that "the new version is merely a revision of the English translation. It is no new and thoroughly revised interpretation of the Hebrew text."

In looking around for a minister to China the administration concluded to vary the monotony of appointing rebels, and it accordingly selected Colonel Charles Denby of Indiana. Colonel Denby was not exactly a rebel, but was about the same thing. He held a commission in the army, which he resigned when the emancipation proclamation was issued, on the ground that he "wouldn't fight to free the niggers," and went home to denounce the blow that had been struck at slavery, the pet institution of the south and the cause of the war. This is the kind of a record that commends him to the administration.

A notable fact discovered by the Boston Advertiser in an examination of the three leading monthly magazines is that the predominance of American authors is overwhelming. Out of seventy three authors in the two volumes of Harper's, only eight are English. Out of fifty-one contributions to the Atlantic only five are English, and out of seventy six writers in the Century only two are English. This enumeration leaves out the various editorial and miscellaneous departments. Out of these nearly 200 contributors, only thirteen wrote for two or more of the magazines.

The subservience of British conscience to British greed in the matter of the opium traffic in China is one of the shames of this century. The new opium treaty goes the full length, tearing down the regulations which have heretofore somewhat limited the marketing of the drug. It is outrageous.

Since John Roach has made the Dolphin perform everything that was required of her, his accusers, who have charged him with being a swindler in league with former administrations, have been forced to do him justice. Such of them as are candid have also confessed that the charges against the management of the navy department, so common during many years, are found to be mainly the clap-traps of partisanship.

Wheat is no longer an experimental crop in Wasco county. It is reported that the total product this year will reach 800,000 bushels, of which 500,000 will be exported.

It is reported that a Besser ticket has been "set up" in the Third ward. Besser seems like the darkies' snake, "dead but not sensible of it."

PROBABLY NOT SUICIDE

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:
[illegible] an account of the death of the [illegible] United States [illegible] of Alabama, stating [illegible] the hotel it must have been suicide [illegible] I knew Mr. [illegible] months ago and had in the last [illegible] long conversation with him concerning his plans [illegible] his office, [illegible] financially very well situated and lived [illegible] happy with his family, so that there can be [illegible] earthly reason for a suicide. While auditor of the state of Alabama, about 1870, he once fell down from his chair in the office, being attacked by vertigo, and he remained unconscious for several hours. About eight or nine years ago when I visited him one morning at the National hotel in Washington, D. C., I found him in bed with a large gash in his head, still bleeding, and he informed me that he got up at night to get a drink of water, was seized by vertigo, fell and was unconscious on the floor for several hours. It is, therefore, reasonable to suppose that he has fallen a victim to an attack of vertigo and has not committed suicide. [illegible] suggested by yesterday's telegram. I hope you will give this statement a place in your paper. Very respectfully, PAUL STROBACH, Late United States Marshal of Alabama.

BEATEN BY BOTH HUSBAND AND WIFE.—Complaint was made the other day before Justice [illegible] of Scappoose by a man named Julian, who alleged that as he was going home late in the evening a woman named Maxey sprang up from the roadside where she had been concealed and threw her arms about his neck. He further alleged that he did not relish this proceeding and pushed the woman from him, whereupon her husband appeared from behind a log and the twain then and there proceeded to give the complainant a beating. He wished to have them arrested, but as his features did not seem to be much damaged the justice looked upon the whole affair as a neighborhood quarrel and declined to issue a warrant.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

CONFIRMATION OF CATHOLIC CHILDREN.—Archbishop Gross administered the sacrament of confirmation at St. Lawrence's church last evening. Great efforts had been made to prepare a suitable reception for his grace. The members of the church and the sisters of St. Mary's academy had been busily engaged in decorating and arranging during the past week and succeeded in giving a charming appearance to the interior of the edifice, with flowers, evergreens and festoons of Swiss muslin. There were mottoes displayed: "Vivat pastor bonus," "May God lengthen his days among us," "Welcome to our pastor beloved." A large and handsome oil painting of St. Lawrence, by Gyet, just received, was also placed in position as a high altar plate. A cavalcade of twenty-five horsemen escorted the archbishop in an open barouche from his residence to the corner of Third and Columbia streets, where he was met by a large number of men on foot and Mr. H. McCormack read an address of welcome on behalf of the gentlemen of the parish. The cavalcade moved to Grant street, where the archbishop was met by the ladies, in whose behalf he was welcomed by Mrs. V. McCauley. Both sides of Third street, from Grant to Sherman, were lined with children, the confirmants to be, the girls in white and the boys in black, each carrying a bouquet. These escorted the archbishop to the church, where he was welcomed by the pastor, Rev. B. Orth, in a brief Latin address. The ceremonies of the confirmation then took place. The children who were the recipients numbered 110. Archbishop Gross was assisted by Bishop Glorieux and Fathers Orth, Netayer and Verhaag. During the evening the archbishop delivered an eloquent discourse on "The Necessity and Power of Prayer."

BOY DROWNED.—On Sunday, May 31, George Russell, a boy aged fifteen years, left his parents' residence, corner of First and Columbia streets, telling his mother that he might take a walk out to the park. She told him to be back to go with her to meet his father, who was coming down from Oregon City on the boat. He said he would be back in time. An hour or two after leaving home he was met, in company with two other boys, by Professor Pratt at the corner of Third and Alder streets, and since that time nothing was seen or heard of him until yesterday afternoon, when two boys informed Coroner Cooke that they had discovered a dead body in a slough up near City View park. They also stated that there was a suit of clothes on the bank near by and they supposed the party drowned had been in swimming. The coroner repaired to the spot indicated and there found the body of young Russell. He is of the opinion that the boys who gave the information are the two seen with him by Professor Pratt, and that the three went up to the place where the body was found and went in swimming and that when Russell was drowned they were afraid to say anything about it. They will be at the inquest, which will be held at 8 o'clock this morning, when the truthfulness of this supposition will be elucidated. The drowned boy was a pupil at Harrison-street school, and was a general favorite with his teachers and schoolmates.

FROM MCMINNVILLE BY BICYCLE.—Dr. G. F. Tucker, E. W. Fuller and A. G. Smith of the McMinnville Bicycle Club, yesterday accompanied F. T. Merrill from that place to Portland on their machines, a distance of fifty miles. The road, as many people know, is not one of the best in the world, and no one has ever taken the pains to roll it for bicycle riding, but these four riders mastered the distance in just five hours actual riding time, and did not appear fatigued in the least as they came rolling down the streets of this city. To be sure they took long rests during the heat of the day, but if such trips as this can be made with ease the number of wheelmen will greatly increase in the near future. The following notes of the trip were kept by Merrill, which may serve as a guidebook to some one else: "Left McMinnville at 7 A. M. and arrived at Dayton 7:35 (seven miles); left at 7:45, arrived at Newberg at 9:20, left at 9:30, arrived at Middleton at 11:15, stopped at D. G. Olds's for dinner, left at 11:50, arrived at Taylor's Bridge at 12:40, where we met C. W. Scott, L. H. Knapp and T. J. O'Connor, Jr. of the Portland club. Remained here until 3:45 P. M., when we again mounted our wheels, now seven in number, and arrived in Portland at 5 P. M., five hours' riding time."

RUN OVER BY A STREET CAR.—The little daughter of Frank Botefuhr, aged five years, was run over yesterday afternoon in front of her home, on the corner of West Park and G streets, by a car of the Transcontinental line, and her left arm crushed just above the elbow so that it is feared that amputation will be necessary. She also suffered a severe scalp wound where the front of the car struck her and knocked her down. Mr. Botefuhr, with his wife and little girl, had just returned from a drive. The little one had been helped down from the buggy and had stepped back a few feet, waiting for her mother to get out, all unconscious of the car that was coming along the track. The driver tried to avert the calamity, but could not stop the car in time. The mother saw the danger, but was also too late to save her child. Her shrieks aroused the neighborhood, and were pitiful to hear. The father had reached the child the next instant and clasped her in his arms. Surgical aid was quickly summoned, and the little sufferer made as comfortable as possible.

FELL DOWN A HATCHWAY.—William Hunter, aged 13 years, son of John Hunter, residing on the corner of Fourteenth and D streets, met with a rather severe accident about 1 o'clock yesterday by falling through the hatchway of the ship Mount Washington, moored alongside the O. & C. Co.'s depot in East Portland. While playing "hookey" from Sunday school, he with other boys strolled aboard the vessel, descended to the lower deck, and, while dazed by the greater degree of light existing above, accidentally fell through the hatchway into the hold, a distance of about fifteen feet. The left shoulder and left eye bore the brunt of the fall, the former being badly bruised, while the latter received a severe cut of a triangular shape surrounding the orbit, causing the eye to disappear from view through the great swelling that ensued, though it is not thought the sight is seriously impaired. His injuries produced unconsciousness, which continued some time after he was conveyed to his home, where Drs. M. A. Flinn and Dav. Raffety attended him.

A CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.—A preliminary meeting of a few of our citizens was held at the office of Gearin & Gilbert on Friday evening last and the subject of the organization of a society, to act under the new law for criminal minors, was carefully discussed. Many questions were asked and facts elucidated bearing upon the problem of the custody and care of unfortunate or wayward boys. As a result of the meeting, it was voted that a formal invitation be extended to Mr. Edmund T. Dooley, superintendent of the Boys' and Girls' aid society of San Francisco, to visit Oregon at an early day for the purpose of advising with those who may be interested, and if it is deemed wise, of organizing a work similar to that which is said to be so successful for California. Mr. Dooley, it is confidently hoped, will come to Portland before the end of this month, and arrangements will probably be made for a public meeting, which he will address.

TURN VEREIN CHILDREN.—The Portland Social Turn Verein and its friends witnessed the exhibition of the children's classes yesterday afternoon at their hall, the little folks showing marked proficiency in the various feats to which they have been trained. There was earnest, good-natured competition also among them for a number of prizes, the awarding of which was left to a committee of the older members of the society. In the evening the hall was again filled with young and old, passing the hours away with social conversation and dancing. The children, especially, enjoyed themselves, and it is noticeable that a brighter, happier lot of little faces it would be hard to get together than is to be seen at a social of the Portland Turn Verein.

FOOT CRUSHED BY THE CARS.—Frank Merrill, baggage master on the West Side road, met with quite a severe accident Saturday. At Wapato the train stopped to wood up and Merrill got on the engine riding there until the train had nearly reached Gaston. In going back to the baggage car he slipped in some manner and fell from the tender, a wheel passing over his left foot and his head striking on the corner of the tender inflicting an ugly scalp wound. He was brought to this city where his wounds were properly dressed.

BODY RECOVERED.—The body of Antonio Ferfish, one of the three men who were drowned from a small boat six miles above Vancouver, about six weeks ago, was found floating in the Columbia near Vancouver Saturday. He was a nephew of Pasqual Ferfish of Clarke county, W. T., and was a native of Austria, aged 18. The funeral will take place at Vancouver at 10 o'clock this morning.

NO LONGER MISSING.—Henry Gothelsen, who was spoken of in an article of some length in the Evening Telegram, as having been missing for a week past without his most intimate friends knowing anything of his whereabouts, has been heard from. A friend has received a letter from him dated at Helena, Montana, which states he will return in about two weeks.

BANQUET TO VISITORS

The visiting sportsmen were entertained last evening at a banquet given by the Multnomah Rod and Gun Club at the Aurora restaurant. About fifty gentlemen sat down to an excellent dinner at which the utmost jollity and sportsmanlike good feeling prevailed, and the numerous good stories of hunting adventures kept the tables in a roar during the entire repast. With the disappearance of the dessert calls were made for the president of the club, J. W. Whalley, who said:

"On behalf of the Multnomah Rod and Gun Club I wish to testify our satisfaction at meeting with so many genuine whole-souled sportsmen as are present on this occasion. I trust it is only the first of many similar events in which we shall participate. I am pleased to know that the sportsmen of this country are gradually becoming organized, as there is something more than sporting incumbent upon them. They must try to prevent the indiscriminate slaughter of game which has prevailed in the past, and to secure legislation to protect it. Clubs must also cultivate friendly relations with those over whose grounds they shoot by securing the punishment of trespassers. This club has won some prizes at the tournament. We knew how strong the Seattle team was and under the circumstances we have reason to be proud that we got away with anything. Now, gentlemen, fill up a bumper while I propose the Gem club of Seattle and couple with it the name of its captain, W. Stackpool."

The toast was drunk with great enthusiasm. In responding Captain Stackpool expressed his gratification at meeting so many gentlemen sportsmen as had been brought together by this tournament. The Seattle team had anticipated a very pleasant affair but their most sanguine expectations had been surpassed. He then called on J. T. McNaught to say something.

Mr. McNaught said: "We have had a really jolly good time. We had a team from the Multnomah club over at Seattle a year ago and from that sample formed our opinion of the club which we have had no occasion to change. We have been treated with the utmost kindness and courtesy and I assure you we appreciate it. We are pleased to have met the Walla Walla club and the Vancouver nine."

Here he was interrupted by great applause and explained that he used to belong to a base ball club.

He continued: "The Seattle team felt a little conceited when we came over. We had floored the Multnomah club once and thought we could do it again. We kept a sharp watch on team No. 1 and felt safe while we kept ahead of them, but found when nearly through that team No. 2 was ahead of us."

Mr. Whalley said: "We have present an old and valued former citizen of Portland. He used to be a solid man here, and is now a solid man at Walla Walla. He has come down here to participate with his old friends in this sport. Like myself, age has dimmed his vision slightly, but his heart is warm yet. I wish to propose a toast to 'Tex' Arberry."

Loud calls followed for "Tex," "Tex," and as his portly form arose from the chair there were shouts of "Tex, are you ready? Shoot."

Mr. Arberry said: "Gentlemen and brother sportsmen, this is one of the greatest pleasures of my life. Stackpool says he is not a talker. Now I am no shooter, but I am a talker. I have been a sportsman for thirty years, and as your president says my eyes are getting dim and the boys beat me at shooting, but my heart is in the right spot yet. I am pleased to have met my old time friends Whalley and Monastes, and if we can get up a tournament at our fair we will invite the Multnomah club to come up and shoot. We have had a very pleasant time. Even the defeat of Walla Walla was a pleasure, and I feel so good I almost believe I still ... straight. I will now propose a toast to my ... able companion C. Schumacher, who if he can't shoot is the best gunsmith in the country."

Mr. Schumacher in response explained how he came to be present. When asked to join the Walla Walla team he said he would if ... Arberry would. Just then Tex came in ... and on being asked to join the team said he would ... additionally which was ... that the ... should throw ... Said Tex ... know we can beat those Portland fellows, and if we do they will never come up to Walla Walla to shoot." And so he and Tex came down with that understanding.

This giving the snap away by Mr. Schumacher was received by loud and prolonged cheering and laughter.

H. C. Macdonald, secretary of the Multnomah club, was toasted and in responding proposed the Vancouver club.

Mr. Arberry paid the members of the Vancouver team what he considered a high compliment ... the sports ... over the high compliment of calling them ... thoroughbred sportsmen ... had ever met.

The ... club was proposed in ... by Dr. Eberly and Mr. Peet, the latter proposing the president and other officers of the Multnomah Rod and Gun club. Mr. Whalley responded and paid a high tribute to the efficiency of ... Macdonald, secretary, and other officers of the club. The winning team was proposed and was responded to by Captain Moore.

M. F. Spencer, who had been with the team which visited Seattle, was called upon for a speech, but declined in favor of Hudson, who, it appears, made a speech at Seattle. There was something about this speech known only to the initiated which was evidently very funny.

George Curry was called and proposed the health of the tournament judges, L. H. Maxwell and Buell Lamberson.

When the reporter left the champagne was still flowing and the toasts a-going.

TO THE FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT.—Parties who are going to the firemen's tournament at Astoria to-morrow by the steamer Telephone will not need to worry about early rising, as she does not leave the foot of Morrison street till 9 A. M., when she goes across to the east side depot to take on the Salem and Albany firemen and their friends who will arrive by the 10 o'clock train. As soon as they are on board the Telephone will start, and will reach Astoria about 4 o'clock.

FAST TIME TO ASTORIA.—The O. R. & N. Co.'s boat leaving Portland Tuesday, June 9, at 5 A. M., has arranged to make a special fast run to Astoria, in order to accommodate those attending the firemen's tournament. People arriving in Portland to-day, going to Astoria, will find this arrangement to their advantage, enabling them to engage hotel accommodations earlier in the day.

FOURTEEN TO ONE.

That is the way the Portland Base Ball Club Whacked it to the American Stars Yesterday.

The attendance at City View park yesterday was the largest of the season. A close game was expected and on the way up, opinion was about equally divided on the question as to whether the Portlands would win. If any one thinks to look at the score that the home club had a "pudding" he is mistaken. The score of the visitors was kept down by the finest battery work that has ever been seen in this part of the country, not excepting the performances of McElroy and Kragen, who were imported from San Francisco two years ago. Local feeling over base ball which existed in times gone by when the game was still in the hands of amateurs, was revived yesterday and the contest was great fun for Portlanders but slightly dispiriting to visitors from Vancouver who numbered about 500 or 750.

Before describing the game it ought to be remarked that the park, under the management of Jones, Wilhelm & Co., is conducted as well as it should be. After the game was over, the boat left promptly, thus allowing the many who wished to return immediately, and making another trip for the few who desired to linger.

THE GAME.

Losing the toss the Portlands went to the bat and scored one run by a fumble of Hole, a wild throw of Cook and a sacrifice hit. In the second inning Edwards got his base on called balls and reached third on a wild throw by Tierney. A base hit by Clendenning and an error of Jackson, allowed two runs. In the third inning Coulter, Drummond, Connolly and Drown bunched four safe hits and earned two runs. Two errors by Foulkrod at critical points let in three more runs, five in all, making a total of eight for the three innings. In the fourth inning three scattering hits, one error of Jackson and two passed balls let in three runs, making the Portlands' score eleven.

Up to this time the Vancouver nine did not get a man to second base, and in the fifth and sixth not a man reached first. It looked as if the visitors would receive nine goose eggs, and they were very strongly inclined to that belief themselves, but in the seventh inning Tierney got to first on a safe hit, stole second, and got to third, and then home on two successive passed balls—the only time in the game when Timmons showed the least weakness, and of course the only errors that were costly. Brandt muffed a thrown ball in the second inning, but the base runner was doubled up immediately afterward by a neat double play of Buchtel, Coulter and Brandt. Coulter and Clendenning collided in reaching for an infield fly and Coulter dropped it. Drummond muffed a long fly after a hard run because he could not get fairly under it. These were all the errors on the part of the home club. Wilson, the catcher for the visitors, had several passed balls at critical points, and the short stop and Jackson at first base were very weak. Tierney's delivery, though at times very puzzling, was irregular. However, he struck twelve men out.

The work of Clendenning and Timmons for the Portlands was almost ideally perfect. Only three safe hits were made, and but four balls were batted outside of the diamond. Early in the game the visitors were taken in with Clendenning's scientific out curves and later on he changed his system, striking every man among the Vancouvers with a total of fifteen struck outs. In five times at the bat, he made three safe hits, but reached first each time, two grounders to left infield being too hot for the shortstop to hold. It was a proud day for Glen. Now that Timmons has had a few days practice he shows himself to be one of the most effective catchers that ever stood behind the bat, and he has an easy way of taking in hard throws, that we must admire. Following is

A CARD.

We adopt this method to inform the public, both of this city and its surroundings, of a very important change to take place shortly. Our business will undergo a complete change by the introduction of entirely new lines of goods. We shall open a Mammoth Bargain Store on the style of Macy's of New York. Our assortment will embrace about everything that can be conveniently sold on our premises. The new lines to be added to our present stock will be Ladies and Gents' Furnishing Goods, Ladies and Misses' Suits, Cloaks, etc., Household Dry Goods, Millinery Goods, etc., etc.; and to that end our eastern resident buyer is now busily engaged buying up all the bargains to be secured. These new lines, together with our lines, familiar to the public, such as Crockery, Glassware, Silverware, Cutlery, Kerosene Fixtures, Baby Carriages, Refrigerators, Toys, Dolls, Household Furniture, Fancy Goods, Leather Goods, etc., etc., will make our establishment a feature on this coast. The opening of this new business will take place early the coming month.

IMPORTANT! IMPORTANT!

Referring to our circular above, we beg to announce that it will become an absolute necessity to make a QUICK AND SURE REDUCTION of our present stock. Enough goods must be sold to give us the room necessary for the display of our new lines of merchandise. Therefore we shall inaugurate a Partial Closing-Out Sale.

BEGINNING TO-MORROW.

Do not misunderstand us. We do not claim an absolute selling-out—we merely wish to sell off about one-quarter of our present stock. We wish the public to have the utmost confidence in all we advertise, and for that reason have stated as plainly as we know how our true position. Our present Partial Closing-out Sale will be carried through in every sense that the announcement implies.

Honest Reductions

Down to cost have been made in every department, and we trust everybody who may require goods in our line will call on us.

LOOK! LOOK!

Further proof of honest reductions will be found in the list of articles enumerated below. They represent only a small portion of our immense stock. A visit to our establishment will be the most advisable to receive the evidence of our sincerity beyond question.

SATURDAY [illegible]

[illegible] at times but [illegible] clear weather to-morrow [illegible] at several eastern section points [illegible]

A S[illegible] has a very poor [illegible] to raise [illegible] Farmers [illegible] why, we haven't got [illegible] this country. They are all [illegible] and that [illegible] farmer. A [illegible] who own [illegible] quarter sections [illegible] cattle bought [illegible] vegetables enough to [illegible] what [illegible] This [illegible] her west.

[illegible] now [illegible] between England and China [illegible] the farmers heretofore [illegible] against the free diffusion of opium [illegible] has not yet [illegible] though the negotiations are nearly complete. This treaty also settles [illegible] fixty taels per chest, and maintains the existing import duty of thirty taels. This is not very cheerful news for those who have so earnestly sought to restrict the use of opium among the [illegible].

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 4 hours: 1000 ctls wheat, [illegible] bbls flour, [illegible] ctls oats, 860 ctls barley, [illegible] sks potatoes, [illegible] lbs wool, [illegible] lbs hides, 66 cs eggs, 814 lbs hops, 179 bxs fruit, [illegible] pkgs butter. Also [illegible] ctls wheat, 100 bbls [illegible], [illegible] ctls barley, [illegible] ctls millstuff, [illegible] lbs wool, [illegible] lbs hides, 15 pkgs butter from the eastern [illegible].

IMPORTS—Per str Columbia included [illegible] bbls, 200 bxs, 202 sks sugar, 10 cs syrup, 50 cs, 201 sks coffee, 49 sks, 815 mats rice, 2865 sks salt, [illegible] pkgs tea, [illegible] pkgs pickles, 129 sks beans, 277 cs canned goods, 10 [illegible] blue, 4 cs sugar [illegible] cs paste, 120 [illegible] baking powder, 129 bxs soap, 44 cs [illegible], 5 cs mustard, [illegible] cs extract, [illegible] matches, 10 bbls meal, 5 cs spice, 240 cs soda and sal, 8 cs candy, 64 sks nuts, 50 hf kgs vinegar, [illegible] pkgs dried fruit, 10 bxs raisins, [illegible] hams, [illegible] kits mackerel, [illegible] cs codfish, [illegible] cs crackers, [illegible] honey, 50 sks onions, [illegible] sks cocoanuts, [illegible] cs lemons, 95 sks potatoes, 158 bxs oranges, [illegible] limes, [illegible] bxs bananas, 725 pkgs fruits and vegetables, [illegible] bbls hops, 200 bls grain bags, 84 [illegible], 520 kgs nails, 41 pkgs tobacco, 59 cs cigars.

FREIGHTS—No inquiry and the market is [illegible] without new interest. Owners of iron at San Francisco have lately shown some uneasiness [illegible] but one ship [illegible] has shown any desire to take [illegible] tonnage. As a result [illegible] 60s is accepted for iron.

WHEAT—Foreign markets steadier to-day [illegible] a better request. New York and Chicago fluctuated within a narrow range, closing rather [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] dull. On last Wednesday the first new California wheat reached San Francisco [illegible] from Stanislaus county. Since that time several small [illegible] have reported. Our market is dull with little doing either here or in the interior. Shippers are [illegible] the while millers are calling for little, the latter paying to [illegible] $1 35 in the interior.

OATS—Receipts heavy, being largely for shipment, although the San Francisco market is again weaker [illegible] local demand is light [illegible] being [illegible] offers and the market is weak at this.

MILLSTUFF—Small local trade doing and prices are without change.

POTATOES—Some new Oregon [illegible] and less Cal [illegible] coming. New sold at 1½c. Old, nominal at [illegible].

ONIONS—Firmer. California selling at 2¼@3c.

FRUITS, VEGETABLES, ETC—California importations sold rapidly, price changes being few. Apples and apricots sold cheaper, string beans higher and local peas bringing more. Berries and small fruits are without marked change. We quote selling values: New California apples $1 75, peaches and apricots $1, tomatoes $3, oranges $2@[illegible], bananas $3 [illegible], lemons $7, limes $1 [illegible], cocoanuts [illegible], gooseberries 2@4c, cherries 4@5c, currants 4@5c, strawberries 3@4c, raspberries 4@6c, green peas 3c, string beans [illegible], cauliflower $1 25, cabbage 2c.

CHICKENS—Some [illegible] over and selling [illegible] low at $3@3 50 for old, $[illegible] for young.

EGGS—Stocks light and dealers all asking 14c to-day.

HOPS—New York dates note continued inactivity. Holders of [illegible] grades retain [illegible] offerings are restricted, while for low grades [illegible] sales.

WOOL—[illegible] fairly within the range of [illegible] for eastern Oregon. Valley in no part [illegible]. New York mail dates report: "Local trading has been largely confined to new spring Texas, and as the old clip is all cleaned up consumers show more willingness to meet holders' views. Values however are too extreme to admit of much activity, and the general market has presented a rather quiet appearance with buying limited chiefly to manufacturers whose mills are running on orders. Consumers of fine fleeces and combing wools are waiting for receipts of new clip, and the current sales of these descriptions have been light and unimportant though at full previous prices. [illegible] talk of purchases [illegible] growing [illegible] has been for account of manufacturers, as dealers [illegible] somewhat chary about stocking [illegible] in view of the uncertain [illegible] of the outlook regarding the future. Foreign wools are firm in sympathy with primary markets, at [illegible] grades have met with a fair demand. At the Liverpool auctions of East India wools last week a slight advance in values over March rates was obtained, but there were not many orders from American consumers."

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June [illegible]—Government [illegible] currency 6s were lower. The market was quiet. Stocks were quiet and otherwise [illegible]. Stock transactions were the smallest [illegible] day this year. Fluctuations in all the active stocks were less than 1 per cent, and final prices are generally not far from the best figures of the day. Oregon Railway and Navigation was an exception, declining 2.

Mining shares were without feature. Kossuth sold at 8, Horn Silver $1 90, Wanderer 18@20, Rappahannock [illegible], Oriental and Miller [illegible], Prize 51, Little Chief 30, Homestake 14@18, California and Virginia $3 50@3 75, Lacrosse 10, Robinson [illegible]. The activity in Consolidated California and Virginia was owing to reports of a coming dividend of [illegible] cents per share.

For Weak Women.

Mr [illegible] P [illegible]: "At the first [illegible] my wife was taken with a terrible hemorrhage. The best physician [illegible] prescribed did not check it and she got more and more enfeebled. She was troubled with Prolapsus Uteri, Leucorrhea, numbness of the limbs, sickness of the stomach and loss of appetite. I purchased a trial bottle of your Vegetable Compound. She said she could discover a salutary effect from the first dose. Now she is comparatively free from the Prolapsus, Stomach sickness, etc. The hemorrhage is very much better and is less at the regular periods. Her appetite is restored, and her general health and strength are much improved. We feel that we have been wonderfully benefited and our hearts are drawn out in gratitude for the same and in sympathy for other sufferers, for whose sakes we allow our names to be used." C. W. EATON, Thurston, N Y.

The Sterling Mining Company has quite a force [illegible] building its [illegible] even, which will [illegible] feet deep.

Patton Bros have taken considerable gold from their mines on Beaver creek already this season, and brought a pile of beautiful nuggets to the bank of Ashland one day last week.

Jacksonville [illegible]: Jackson and Josephine counties are full of rich mines yet. As soon as the requisite capital can be obtained to work them this fact will become quite apparent.

Rich specimens of copper ore has been found within a few miles of Salem. It is probable that a company of western capitalists will invest money in the enterprise of working the ore.

John Ryder, a farmer of Curry county, has been missing a month, and it is feared he has been drowned in the ocean, as he was last traced to a high bluff, where he was hunting some stray hogs.

By the fire at Oak Grove, Polk county, Mr A. G. Roberts lost one thresher, two seeders, one hay rake, one binder, a span of horses valued at $400 or $500, ten tons of hay and about 400 bushels of wheat.

The Grand Ronde Baptist association will hold its annual meeting at Indian Creek, commencing on Wednesday morning, June 11, at 10 o'clock, and remain in session until the following Sunday evening.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable mining season a considerable quantity of gold dust has been taken out of the Rogue river. C. C. Beekman of Jacksonville has bought and shipped several thousand dollars' worth.

The county immigration board of Klamath county has had printed a neat little pamphlet descriptive of their county, and setting forth in attractive light the advantages which the Klamath basin has to offer to new settlers.

A few days ago, as a Mr Hoxter was driving a band of 700 horses near Baker City, a freight team approached, when the horses stampeded, running into a slough, thirteen of them being drowned and a number of others lamed.

The side track at Central Point, Jackson county, will be completed in a few days. The grading is finished, the ties are laid and the rails for the track arrived last week. The warehouse is also about done and ready for business.

The Teachers' Normal Institute to be held at Weston has been postponed until July 7. The institute will continue four weeks and a large number of teachers from all parts of eastern Oregon and Washington will be in attendance.

At a school meeting held last Wednesday, at Pendleton, a tax of ten mills was voted to be levied on the property in that district, and the directors were authorized to borrow $12,000, or two thirds of the cost of the proposed improvements.

Roseburg Plaindealer: A load of the finest coal that ever came into this town, was brought down from the East Umpqua river, about twenty two miles from town, where Dr J F W Saubert has discovered an extensive coal ledge. The quality too is of the very best.

Rich placer mines have been discovered in Sawmill gulch in Union county, near Sparta, and claims are being located daily. Water can be got on all the ground from Eagle Creek canal, but quite a number are now working the old-fashioned rocker and are making good wages.

Roseburg Review: Reports from all portions of the county are indicative of an abundant yield of grain. We have talked with a great many farmers and have not heard one word of disparagement of the yield of spring-sown. Fall-sown crops will not give as good yield, as the rains came too late to do any permanent good.

A Camas valley correspondent of the Roseburg Plaindealer says: "The gold fever has developed into an epidemic among our valley folks. The scene of the excitement is Twelve-mile creek. Claims have been taken up from the forks of it and Bowlder creek for a distance of a mile or more up the creek. James Hudleson and Mr Martindale are working their claim with vigor. They are at present running a ditch of half a mile in length. They have had good prospects and are sanguine of success."

The Dalles Times Mountaineer: We are credibly informed that the wheat crop of Wasco county this year will far exceed that of any former one. Between the Deschutes and John Day rivers the increase in acreage will be fully 60 per cent, and the yield will be 25 per cent per acre over any former year. This side of the Deschutes the increase in acreage will be fully [illegible] and the yield 20 to [illegible] per cent. If the present favorable weather continues a few days longer the output of wheat will be 800,000 bushels, of which 500,000 will be exported.

La Grande Gazette: Last Friday in Indian valley a man named Plumly and Joel A. Brown got into a dispute over a right of way, Brown warning Plumly not to trespass on his ground. Plumly started to go on despite the warning of Brown, and when Brown tried to prevent him he drew a knife and stabbed Brown, the knife entering just below the left shoulder-blade and then cutting a terrible gash clear over the shoulder to the breast-bone. The wound is painful but not necessarily fatal. Plumly was arrested, but he justice discharged him, claiming that it was in self defense.

Last Sunday James Mitchell was shot by his brother-in-law, Press Hill, on the headwaters of Smith river, about fifteen miles northwest of Drain. They were hunting and Mr. Hill mistook Mr Mitchell for a deer. He went to him, then started for help and when they returned he was dead. He was buried at the Ritchey cemetery. Mr Mitchell was a single man, 26 years of age. They came out here looking for homes, and had camped near Drain to rest up their team and look around the country. They emigrated from Missouri two years ago and have since resided near Oswego.

Pendleton East Oregonian: A few days ago Mr. Thomas Graham, of Granite creek, while mining his placer claims, picked up a gold boulder which netted four and one-half pounds—equal to between $800 and $900. Mr Graham has worked his placers for many years with considerable success, often picking up nuggets weighing from $1 to $50. Granite creek is one of the oldest camps in the state, and one of the richest, every year turning out thousands of dollars. The gravel beds have deep deposits, and the gulches are well and [illegible], [illegible] gold permeating the earth in all directions. The water supply of the camp is very good. Many valuable quartz discoveries have also been made in this district and the ores assay very rich. Parties who have quartz locations are this spring pushing the work of development to a considerable extent.

The people of Starbuck will celebrate the Fourth in style, winding up with a grand ball in the large warehouse.

A young man named Joseph Woods attempted to commit suicide at his home near Walla Walla last Thursday, but failed.

Invitations are being sent out to the various G. A. R. posts in Western Washington to come to Seattle on July 4, and participate in the celebration.

The assessor of Whitman county finds 75,[illegible] acres in cultivation out of a total of 1,171,[illegible] acres. The assessed valuation is over $5,0[illegible], and the population 9,[illegible].

The Spokane Falls Review claims that the wheat acreage of Spokane county is 1[illegible] acres and that of Lincoln county over 10[illegible] acres, an increase of 60,000 acres on previous estimates.

Spokane Falls Chronicle: The shipment last week at this station of 34,000 pounds of rich carbonate of silver ore from the Dominion mine of Benoist, Kearney & Co, in Colville valley to the reduction works in San Francisco, is the best mining item we have picked up this spring. This ore is said to assay from $300 to $6000 and it is claimed that there is enough in sight to load twenty cars. The results of this venture will be looked forward to with eager interest.

A new town site on the Puyallup [illegible] about two miles south of Seattle, has been laid out. It is called Sumner [illegible], and contains [illegible] acres, divided into sixty two lots of five acres each, ten acres being donated to street purposes. Lots are selling from $300 to $500 each.

Mr Philip Ritz, the well known nurseryman, says he has been through a good share of five counties in eastern Washington, and he is of the opinion that the wheat yield will be at least one third greater in amount this year than ever before. In some places the fields look spotted, but as a whole they look finely.

Walla Walla [illegible]: It is reported to us, by a gentleman just down from the Crab creek country, that the settlers in the vicinity of Wilson creek recently hanged, for cattle stealing, one "Toly" Rutherson, formerly a resident of Walla Walla valley. It is also said that it is also stated that a few days ago they hanged a man named Young, on Rock creek, because he had been too free with cattle, and horses that did not belong to him.

IDAHO.

On Friday last the ten-year-old son of William Cunningham, section foreman at Ross Fork, Idaho, disappeared. Search for him resulted yesterday in finding his body about four miles from the section house, in the creek which flows by it. It is conjectured that the child was playing on the banks of the creek when he fell in and met his death.

The same paper also has the following: A gentleman came to this city about a month ago, a surveyor by profession, and took a trip across the country on horseback. His body has been found and was buried at the mouth of South Boise on Saturday last. No one knows his name or anything about him, except that he was a tall, gentlemanly looking person.

The Boise States[illegible] says: Sam Raymond, well known in this country and formerly an employe of J. P. Cope, a stage man of this city, was drowned about two weeks ago in South Boise. He owned a claim up on the east side of the river and had been to a settlement known as Junction Bar. It is presumed that in returning he fell from a footbridge with the fatal result we have named. His body was found at the mouth of South Boise.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A Presbyterian church is being built at Mud Bay.

The following are the returns of the Nanaimo custom house for May: Import duty, $5533 90; sick mariners dues, $127 72; petroleum inspection, $7 50; total, $5668 72.

A house of ill repute in Nanaimo, kept by a couple of women named Pearl and Lily White, was totally consumed Thursday morning. The keepers of the house were in Victoria at the time of the fire.

It is reported that a man was found a few days ago on the Yale road, near the Serpentine, in an exhausted and helpless condition. He was brought to Brownsville, where he died. It is supposed he came from Washington territory.

The New Westminster Columbian says: On Sunday morning a man employed on the railway at Maple Ridge dropped dead suddenly while washing himself. His name was Sullivan, but nothing is known of him beyond that. He was buried on Monday, and as Mr. Nelson's team was carrying him to the grave one of the horses suddenly dropped dead.

MONTANA.

A sampling mill is to be erected at Helena to cost $1,000.

The Drum Lummon mine turned out $1[illegible],000 in a ten-days run last week.

Virginia City, Butte and Bozeman are all making extensive preparations for celebrating the Fourth of July.

A miner named Henningar was murdered last Wednesday near Stewart station, Deer Lodge county, by some unknown person.

The contract for the dormitory building of the college of Montana at Helena has been let at $20,000. The building is to be finished on September 10th to be ready for the next session. The college will then be able to board seventy pupils, and they expect an attendance of over 100 pupils.
